About us

The Centre for Volunteering is a not-for-profit organisation which connects and promotes volunteers and volunteer involving organisations (VIOs), to help strengthen communities. Our members are mainly not-for-profit organisations, large and small, across all sectors. We also work with government and corporate organisations.

- Volunteer Referral Service
A very popular member benefit, this service is a recruitment agency for volunteers and volunteer involving organisations seeking to recruit volunteers. Our referral service advertises for, recruits, interviews and refers volunteers to volunteer involving organisations based on their skills, and suitability, saving our members' precious time and resources. The volunteers benefit from our guidance in Helping match them with a role that meets their expectations, skills and availability.
- School of Volunteer Management (RTO no. 90031)
The Centre offers nationally-recognised qualifications in volunteering and volunteer program coordination – from certificate I - IV. We also offer professional development courses and workshops for individuals and organisations ranging from Implementing the National Standards for Volunteer Involvement to understanding the legal issues of managing volunteers
