

2023 NSW Volunteer of the Year Awards - Information for Nominators

The NSW Volunteer of the Year Awards is an annual program launched in 2007 by The Centre for Volunteering to recognise the outstanding efforts of the 4.9 million volunteers in NSW, and to promote the importance of volunteering to the community. In 2022, the Awards program recognised over 128,000 volunteers across NSW.

Thank you for taking the time to nominate an individual or team for the 2023 NSW Volunteer of the Year Awards. Before you get started on the nomination form, please read the following information to ensure that you have all of the necessary details to complete the form.

As all certificates / awards will be as per the details supplied on the nomination form, please ensure that you double check the spelling of the nominee's name / team name / organisation etc. before submitting. Please also double check the email address, as all invitations to the regional ceremonies are sent by email only.

About Volunteering

In many communities, the word volunteering is not always recognised. Often acts of giving, sharing and helping out are imbedded and part of cultural practices, we support these customs and advocate that these are all forms of volunteering.

If you give your time, share your skills or help out in your community, you are a volunteer. Volunteering can be defined as "time willingly given for the common good and without financial gain".

What is volunteering:

If you give your time, share your skills or help out in your community you are volunteering.

An example that is volunteering: coaching your child's football team, because people outside of your household and family also benefit.

What is not volunteering:

Volunteering does not include only helping your family or people you live with.

An example that is not volunteering: helping your flat-mate, cousin or sister with their homework

Nominations

All nominations MUST be completed and submitted online via The Centre for Volunteering's website - www.volunteering.com.au/volunteer-awards/ by 5pm Friday 16 June, 2023.

Volunteers / Volunteer Managers are not permitted to nominate themselves.

The 2023 Nomination Form allows for two types of recognition for the volunteers of NSW.

- 1) Nomination for Recognition only - This is the simplest way to acknowledge volunteers. These nominees will not be judged. However, they will be invited to their regional ceremony where they will be presented with an identical certificate to nominees eligible for judging. This nomination requires you to complete four parts only (Parts 1-4).
- 2) Nomination for Judging - These nominees will be judged for the NSW Volunteer of the Year Award in the appropriate category. This nomination requires you to complete six parts (Parts 1-6), all of which must be completed to be accepted by the Judging Committee.

The nomination form can be saved at any point if you don't have time to complete the form in one sitting or need further information to continue. All you need to do is click on the Save and Resume Later button at the bottom of each section and you will be emailed a link which can be used at a later date to continue your nomination.

Please note that The Centre for Volunteering is unable to view or access partially completed forms.

Part 1: Nominee's Permission

All nominators must have permission from the person or team you are nominating to disclose their personal information as part of their entry in the 2023 NSW Volunteer of the Year Awards. For privacy purposes, the nominee is required to understand and be aware that as a result of this nomination, their name, image and story may be used publicly by The Centre for Volunteering in promotional material. Please note that the volunteer you are nominating will be sent a copy of the full nomination form as soon as it has been submitted.
